Ann E. Querns litigates complex business disputes. She has experience counseling clients and advocating for them in disputes involving breach of contract, fraud, theft of trade secrets, business torts, and products liability.

Ann also represents both corporations and individuals in criminal enforcement actions. She has represented clients in the investigation and defense of criminal matters, including violations of antitrust laws and complex fraud related to healthcare and employee conduct.

Ann's work spans across industries, with a specific focus on life sciences, as she has represented pharmaceutical companies in state and federal courts across the country.

Ann served as law clerk to the Honorable R. Barclay Surrick of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. While in law school she was a member of The George Washington University International Law Review and the Mock Trial Board. Ann also interned for the Honorable Garrett E. Brown, Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey.

Outside The Firm

Ann loves the outdoors and practices yoga every chance she gets. She is also an active member of the Lutheran Church of Our Savior in Haddonfield, serving as the Secretary of Church Council.
