Bryan concentrates his practice on corporate bankruptcy and business reorganization matters and related litigation. He represents secured and unsecured creditors, creditors' committees, liquidating trustees, asset purchasers, and chapter 11 debtors. He prosecutes and defends avoidance actions in large chapter 11 cases and represents plaintiffs and defendants in commercial litigation in state and federal court.

Prior to entering practice, Bryan served as law clerk to the Honorable Alan S. Trust of the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of New York. Prior to joining Blank Rome, Bryan practiced at a firm in New York.

During law school, Bryan served as a notes and comments editor of the St. John's Law Review and was a member of the St. John's Securities Arbitration Clinic where he represented consumers in FINRA arbitration proceedings.
