Fatema Ghasletwala concentrates her practice on intellectual property and technology matters.

Fatema previously served two summers as a summer associate at Blank Rome, as a judicial law school clerk to the Honorable C. Darnell Jones II of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, as well as a judicial intern for the clerk of the Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division.

Fatema attended law school as a Beasley Merit Scholar and served as a staff editor of the Temple Law Political & Civil Rights Society as well as a Student Bar Association senator. During law school, she published “Examining the School-to-Prison Pipeline: Sending Students to Prison Instead of School” in the St. John’s University School of Law Journal of Civil Rights and Economic Development. She graduated as an associate in the Rubin Public Interest Honor Law Society.

Outside The Firm

Fatema enjoys hiking America’s National Parks with her husband and crocheting.
