Gregory Bergman concentrates his practice on general litigation matters. He is experienced in all aspects of federal court litigation in areas of law, such as:

- commercial
- civil rights
- Title IX
- white collar
- municipal liability
- commercial transportation

During law school, Greg was the editor-in-chief of the Rutgers Journal of Law and Public Policy, and participated in the Judge James M. Hunter III Moot Court Competition. He also served as a judicial extern to the Honorable Joel H. Slomsky of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

Outside The Firm

Greg is a passionate Philadelphia sports fan who enjoys eating his way through Philly's restaurants. He also enjoys the Philadelphia music scene and the many venues the city has to offer. When he isn't eating or listening to live music, Greg plays goalie for his men's ice hockey league team.
