CO-CHAIR, GENERAL LITIGATION PRACTICE GROUP

Michael Iannucci maintains a national litigation practice focusing on complex business disputes. He represents corporate and individual clients in the following types of matters:

- Class action defense
- False advertising, unfair trade practices, consumer fraud/protection, and privacy defense
- Unfair competition, tortious interference, and employee raiding
- Breach of contract, fraud, and other business torts
- Non-competition, non-solicitation, and misappropriation of trade secret enforcement and defense
- Commercial real estate disputes
- Preliminary and permanent injunctions, temporary restraining orders, and special injunctions
- Corporate governance and shareholder disputes
- Claims involving the FDCPA, TILA, TCPA, TCCWNA, UTPCPL, FCEUA, RESPA, and FCRA

Mike has also been involved in numerous mediations, arbitrations, and other alternative dispute resolution mechanisms to limit clients' expenses and exposure. In addition, he regularly publishes and speaks on class action litigation and federal court practice.

In addition to his litigation practice, Mike is a member of Blank Rome's Recruiting and Retention Committee, Alumni Committee, and Litigation Department's CLE

Planning Committee. He previously served as the co-chair of the firm's 2014, 2016, and 2017 summer associate program.

Mike began his career as a federal law clerk to the Honorable John J. Hughes, United States District Court for the District of New Jersey. He graduated from Rutgers University School of Law—Camden with high honors, served as the editor-in-chief of the Rutgers Journal of Law and Religion and interned for Supreme Court of New Jersey Justice F.J. Fernandez-Vina.

Outside The Firm

At the University of Delaware, Mike was a two-time Colonial Athletic Association Scholar-Athlete and a pitcher for the Blue Hens' baseball team. Mike lives in the Philadelphia suburbs with his wife and two children.
