Sydney Lim concentrates her practice on matrimonial and family law matters.

During law school, she was an associate editor of the Fordham International Law Journal. As a Pro Bono Scholar, Sydney completed an externship at Mobilization for Justice, where she helped represent indigent New Yorkers with disabilities. She received the Archibald R. Murray Public Service Award, summa cum laude, for performing over 1,000 hours of pro bono and community work.

Sydney has volunteered with the CARA Family Detention Center Pro Bono Project, where she assisted detainees seeking asylum, as well as Fordham's Center on Law and Information Policy Private Educators Program, holding informational classes for middle school students about privacy and technology.
