Taylor Lake concentrates her practice on a wide range of general litigation matters.

Prior to joining Blank Rome, Taylor was an assistant district attorney for the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia. She was most recently a member of the Family Violence and Sexual Assault Unit where she prosecuted felony sexual assault and domestic violence cases in Philadelphia criminal court. She has tried multiple felony jury trials to verdict, including conducting investigations, serving witnesses, completing discovery, researching and writing briefs for motion litigation, and handling post-sentence/verdict motions. She also practiced in the Motions Unit, handling Municipal Court appeals and Common Pleas motions.

During law school, Taylor was the executive articles editor for the Journal of Law and Social Change and received the Exemplary Pro Bono Service Award.
