Tim Salter concentrates his practice on a variety of consumer finance litigation matters, representing major financial institutions and loan servicers in disputes arising under the Bankruptcy Code, TILA, RESPA, FCRA, FDCPA, and New York state law. Tim is also experienced defending mortgage loan originators against indemnification claims brought by Lehman Brothers Holdings, Inc. as part of its ongoing Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

Tim is experienced with all aspects of a contested litigation, including the preparation of an initial complaint, motion practice, oral argument, discovery, bench and jury trials, and appellate work. Before joining Blank Rome, Tim was a litigation associate in Garden City, New York, and focused his practice on bankruptcy and civil litigation matters.
